The Sport Ridge Compact Elite Bluetooth Earmuffs are great for everyday wear on and off the range. Noisy landscaping tools are no match for the NRR-26db rating. Instead, they suppress harmful noise levels while streaming your favorite podcast or playlist.

Great for field use, you can connect 2-way communication devices by Bluetooth and answer calls while not removing your protective gear.

Muffs are also passive electronic when on the range or in the field. For example, you can turn ambient noise to hear range commands or animals cracking leaves in the fall as they approach your hunting blind. All the while, for any noise over 82db harmful level, the auto-off will save your hearing.
